Making up Work

- It is the student's responsibility to check for missed work.
- Work can be completed on-line even when the student is absent.
- Please make plans to make up work time on ALEKS when you are absent.

Extra Help:

Students are encouraged to come in for extra help during my planning periods (4 and 7). I plan to be in my room by 7:30 daily to assist students, but I will also need a few minutes of that time to get things ready for the day's lessons. Please come and visit if you are having any problems. If these times don't work well, please feel free to ask other math teachers or consult the internet, or set up an appointment with me if you have questions.

Grading

Students will be given a formative grade daily based upon their progress and successful completion of individualized goals and standards. Every two weeks students will be given a summative grade based upon their performance over the two-week period.
